TEQUILA

for a hard earned thirst

types of tequila

BLANCO

Blanco means “silver” in Spanish. Rarely aged more than a couple of weeks.

REPOSADO

Reposado means “rested” in Spanish. They are aged anywhere from two months to a year and take on a golden hue from the barrels in which they are aged.

AÑEJO

Añejo means “vintage” in Spanish. These tequilas are aged from one to three years resulting in a smoother flavor.

JOVEN or ORO

Joven (“young”) or oro (“gold”) are unaged silver tequilas which get their color from the caramel coloring added before fermentation.
